

Chocolate Orange Bath Bombs

Description

These are the simplest bath bombs you will ever make. They smell like orange chocolates and can be molded in candy molds or soap molds. These can be packaged up in cellophane bags or candy packaging. You can use any essential or fragrance oil in place of sweet orange. The variations are limitless. Just think about your favorite chocolate candy mixture.

Recipe

Mix thoroughly together in a stainless steel bowl

.495 lbs Citric Acid (7.92 oz)

.565 lbs Sodium Bicarbonate (9.04 oz)

Separately gently melt

.25 lbs Natural Cocoa Butter (4 oz)

Thoroughly mix the dry mixture with the melted cocoa butter and then add

.01 lbs Sweet Orange EO (.16 oz)

Directions

Separately mix citric acid and sodium bicarbonate thoroughly in a stainless steel bowl with stainless steel spoon or with gloved hands. In a separate stainless stain pot melt gently melt cocoa butter. Once completely melted, thoroughly mix the dry mixture with the melted cocoa butter and then mix in sweet orange or essential oil of your choice. Immediately, manually pack soap or candy molds with mixture and put into the freezer. Allow to harden and remove from the freezer. The time will vary depending on the size of your soap or candy molds. Slip bath bombs out of the molds and package.

Yield depends on size of molds.

Equipment

Stainless steel bowl

Stainless steel spoon

Stainless steel pot (stovetop) or a glass or Pyrex bowl (microwave)

Gloves (recommended)

Soap or candy molds

Alcohol to cleanse all equipment before use

Ingredient List

Sodium Bicarbonate, Citric Acid, Theobroma cacao (Natural Cocoa) Butter, Citrus sinensis (Sweet Orange) Essential Oil.